

"Learning that lasts a lifetime"

Newsletter

On Monday, our Collective Worship focussed on the perseverance showed by Paddy and Carol Henderson, the founders of the Trussell Trust, whose initial mission was to help the many children sleeping rough in Bulgaria. In 2000, the plight of families going hungry on their own doorstep came to their attention and they set up the first food bank from their garden shed in Salisbury. Nearly 20 years on, there are over 1200 food bank centres across the UK, serving countless families in crisis. We always like to do our bit and we are therefore asking for donations of items for our Harvest celebration on Monday, 14th October. Parents are, of course, welcome to join us.

Our big focus this year is reading and we have therefore decided to change the focus of our early morning sessions. Instead of Early Morning Maths at 8:45am each day, children will now be encouraged to get their reading books out and read to themselves, a friend or an adult (teacher, teaching assistant or volunteer). We will also be checking to see if children have read at home during this time as we know how important it is for children to read on a regular basis (we would recommend at least 5 times per week for approximately 10-30 minutes, depending on the age of the child).

Obviously, the more adults we have to listen to children read, the better. So if you can spare some time to support us by hearing children read in school on a fairly regular basis, at any time of the week, please talk to your child's class teacher.

We have already started planning our next reading parent workshop for parents of year 1 and 2 as well as information to support older children with further comprehension skills—watch this space for more details!

Mrs Carmichael

We are holding our Harvest Festival on Monday 14th October at 2pm.
All welcome to attend.

We will be collecting food to donate to the St Austell food bank.
If you are able to help with this, please see the list below.

On the morning of its first birthday, a baby was found floating in a cello case in the middle of the English Channel.

It was the only living thing for miles. Just the baby, and some dining-room chairs, and the tip of a ship disappearing into the ocean. There had been music in the dining hall, and it was music so loud and so good that nobody had noticed the water flooding in over the carpet. The violins went on sawing for some time after the screaming had begun. Sometimes the shriek of a passenger would duet with a high C.

The baby was found wrapped for warmth in the musical score of a Beethoven symphony. It had drifted almost a mile from the ship, and was the last to be rescued. The man who lifted it into the rescue boat was a fellow passenger, and a scholar. It is a scholar's job to

BOOK RECOMMENDATIONS

Our book recommendation for this week is a website called LoveReading4Kids.com. You will need to login to use it, but it is totally FREE. This marvellous website allows you (and your children) to view the first chapter of almost all new (and some old) children's books. So if your child isn't sure what kind of books they like, they can filter to see extracts from books appropriate for their age and the genre they might like to try. If there is an author they would like to read, then equally you can sort by author and 'try before you buy.' There are both extracts from both fiction and non-fiction books for all ages. Here is an extract from one of my favourite children's books - 'Rooftoppers' by Katherine Rundell, taken from the website. If you go onto the Lovereading4kids website, you'll be able to read what happens next....

Don't forget that the Book People are offering £1 to our school for every £10 spent when you choose our school... we're all signed up and would be glad to get any donations in this way so that we can purchase exciting books to read for your children.

ASDAT Parent Information Sessions

For parents of children who are awaiting or considering an ASD assessment

We will be running some information sessions in order to tell you more about:

- The ASDAT team – who are we?
- The assessment process:
 - What happens in the initial appointment?
 - What information we need to gather for the assessment?
 - What other factors we might consider during the assessment process?
- What help is available whilst you are waiting for the assessment to occur?
- We will also update you on any new developments

We have planned the following sessions over the coming months:

Tuesday 15th October 2019 at 5.30pm at Truro Health Park, Infirmary Hill, Truro, TR1 2JA [Conference Room]

Thursday 5th December 2019 at 10am at Callington Community College, Launceston Rd, Callington PL17 7DR
